Our "Sister" States.

Tennessee sent a peace commission into Kentucky upon whose lips were the strongest protestations of legalty and love for Kentucky. We were called not only the sister, but the "twin sister" of Tennessee; and while our authorities were exchanging civilities with the pesce commission, the Reverend Major General Bishop Polk walked coelly into the State and informed the people that a "millirary necossity" required him to subjugate them. The Reverend General acted in fit concert with those who came to our State on a pretended mission. While our "twin sister" was protesting her love of peace, and her desire to respect the neutrality of Kentucky, an army of invasion was crossing the border of the State, and entrenching themselves in our cities. After the other violations it was to be expected that an ex-minister of the gospel, in the service of the Prince of Peace, would turn upon the State an army, and with sacreligious wickedness, lay waste

The next characteristic move of secession is the fight of the Secretary of State, and the Judge of the District Court of Kentucky, both of whom, in the presence of high heaven, had sworn to support the State and the Union. The Governor of the State knew this fact and concealed it. He is privy to the fact that these men intended to run away, and knew of their flight, and has not yet made answer to the demand of the Legislature. When did Thomas B. Monroe, the fugitive Secretary of State, leave Frankfort? and what knowledge had Gov. Magoffin of his flight? We want the date. We remem ber when the United States Government made a call for troops that the same Governer heralded his refusal on the wings of the wind, in most insulting terms. When the call of L. P. Walker, of the Southern Confederacy, was made, in some extraordi. nary and mysterious way the call was lost. The Legislature demanded it from the Govevernor, and the Governor had mislaid it.

Governor Magoffin may not, under the strong outside pressure made by the Secessionists, be fully aware of the fact that he has betrayed his constituency. In som respects he is worthy of admiration, as a genial, manipulated piece of clay, in the hands of pottering Breckizridge, and has performed his duty in that respect with the most perfect abandon.

The Journal, of yesterday, has still additional proof of the acts of Secession. They have professed in the strongest terms their determination not to interfere with any one for political opinions, and yet we find them "appropriating" a thousand bushels of wheat, blowing up bridges, tearing up railroads, and stealing tin cups, knives and forks at Bowlinggreen, Munfordsville and Rochester. The Journal gives us still more accounts-one letter from Jamestown, Ky.,

Gentlemen: Some eight days since the Confederate cavalry made a raid on Albany. Clinton county, sacked the town, taking all the arms, money, and blankets, jeans, sugar, coffee, &c., that they could find. For some six days they were in the county, robbing farmers of their bed clothes, sheep, cattle and horses. On Friday the Home Guards collected in sufficient force from Russell, Casey, Linco'n, and Adair to occupy Albany on Saturday. Col. Hoskins, from Camp Dick Robinson, reached them with some ordusace and the datachment of cavalry, when the rebels left. On Sunday Col. Hoskins sent cut a scouting party of cavalry. At Traversville, some fourteen miles from Albany, they came upon a camp of the Confederate dragoons, consisting of about 113, attacked them, completely routing them, killed seven, took eight or ten prisoners, captured all their camp equipage, consisting of ammunition, their papers, muster roles, provisions, wines, pistols, large knives, one Sharpe's rifle, one musket (that they had stolen from Albany), with numerous blankets, shawls, &c, &c. The celebrated Jim S. Chrisman was with them They got his horse, saddie-bags, and shawl. There were 80 of our boys, none of whom

My friend John L. Carter is raising company of dragoons. His company will be full this week, and by the 10th they want to start for camp. He expected to join Wolford's Regiment which is now full. He requests me to offer his services to Col. J. S. Jackson. His are fine young men, of good morals, and when drilled will do good work.

Advices from Jefferson City, to October 2d say that Fremont is organizing his forces ready for a 10. ward movement, which he in a day. A crowd of inexperienced and will not make till he is all ready. A scout undrilled men cannot defend themselves who arrived from Osocola in the afternoon of the 2d, reported that McCulloch was at Osceola a "few days" before, with 10,000 men, moving northward. One account at Jefferson City has Price marching on Georgetown with 30,000 men, and another statement that his army has scattered in various directions. Frement had information that Lane had certainly defeated Parsons somewhere in the Platte county region. Lieutenant A. Morton, of an Ilinois Regiment was arrested in St. Louis, Wednesday night, on a charge of treason.

The Rolla correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat, writing on the 2d, says that Osceola was attacked by Montgomery, on the 224, and the place burned. He furnishes the following in reference to the reported death of Ben. McCulloch: The story is again revived of McCulloch's death, several of the Springfield men insisting that they are in possession of sufficient evidence to convince them of its truth. The following statement from a gentleman just arrived, bearing on this subject may be taken for what it is worth. Two ladies of Lawrence county, quite recently deter mined to settle the truth of the alleged statement to their own satisfaction. They accordingly put on secession sashes, and under the character of good and true rebels visited an officer of the Texas rengers. The inquisitive females commenced their inquiries of the officer in this way:

"The Union people about Springfield," said one of the latter, "really believe McCulloch is dead, but we know better, and would like to have our opinions con-

"Ladies," said the officer, in reply, never would be guilty of telling a lady an untruth. Ben McCulloch is dead. He died at Fayetteville from the effects of a wound in the leg, having refused medical aid necessary to cure him and prevent the disustrous result. The army is commanded by his brother, Sam McCulloca "

The ladies returned perfectly satisfied with the result of their inquiry. Whether they were sold depends upon the punic faith of a Texan.

The news from Georgetown, last Saturday, was that Price sent 4,000 men across the river on a furlough: that Sturgis attacked and drove them back, and that, in attempting to recress the Missouri on a steamer, Sturgis opened his batteries and destroyed the boat, killing large numbers.

space will permit : Suspension of Specie Payments .- The banks of New Orleans suspended specie payments at the request of the Governor of Louisiana, who issued a proclamation on the subject, stating the step was necessary to maintain the credit of the $100,000,000 of Treasury notes issued by the Confederate Government in order to supply the means for carrying on the war. The banks are to receive and pay out these notes at par. The New Orleans banks were the last to take this step, into which they have been driven by the rebel Government. This action of the banks at once created a scarcity of small change, the effects of which, as thus stated by the Picayune, are amusing:

"There was a great commotion in the different markets this morning, on account of the great difficulty in procuring and making change, among the butchers and market women. The purchasers, or marketers, were also in great distress, as they found their bargains stopped after having concluded them by the impediment of pro-

Mr. Heley is a resi dent of more than thirty years standing in Charleston, and kept two of the prizcipal livery stables in the city. He is a man of respectability and means, and is very intelligent upon Charleston affairs. He gave us the following statements:

There are many Union men in Charleston. but they give no public utterance to their sentiments; they know each other, and privately exchange their thoughts, hopes, and fears. His fidelity to the Southern Confederacy was doubted, and they began a system of annoyances. His son's loyalty was also doubted, and he was ordered to join a military organization, which he bravely declined to do, and said that he "was bern under the American flag, and he intended to die nuder it." For this "treasonable" language he was arrested and imprisoned, and continued in prison for three weeks, when he was released upon bail.

His father now determined to send him to the North, and soon after to follow him. He adroitly managed to get his son out of the city, and he made his way to Knoxville, where he awaited the arrival of his father.

[From the Cincinnati Press.] General Harney. The Cleveland Herald inquires: "Why the sword of General Harney is allowed to rest in its sheath?" This is a question that had better be put to the Blair family. General Harnav was a slaveholder in Missouri ; General Francis P. Blair an Abolitionist slaveholder's proclivities to preserve the peace in Missouri, if possible, until the dispute had been settled in other fields; the other was desirous to bring it on there, with a view to putting an end to slavery, which he had boasted he was about to accomplish. General Blair went to St. Louis with an order in his pocket from the President of the United States to supercede General Harney, in case he did not come up to General Blair's standard of performance.

General Harney was susperceded under circumstances calculated to convey the impression that he was an object of suspicion to the Government. Under such circum stances General Harney can neither tender his services to the Government nor the Government call upon General Harney. Whether General Harney is in his heart loyal to the Government is a point upon which the public has not been directly ad vised; but it may be doubted whether his doings at St. Louis are calculated, if rightly understood, to throw a doubt upon his

Address of the Union Members of the Legislature to the People of Ken-

In this extraordinary crisis, we deam it a luty we, your representatives, owe to you and ourselves, to say a few words to you, as to the condition of the Commonwealth, and the duties we have been called upon to perform. We have ardently desired peace, and hoped to save Kentucky from the calamities of war. When the Federal authorities deemed it necessary to employ force in self-defense, and to execute the laws of the Government, we assured our Southern neighbors of our purpose not to take up arms voluntarily against them, notwith-standing their wicked attempt to destroy the Government, from which we and our fathers have received the greatest benefits. Every effort was made, both before and after the employment of force, to effect some compre-nise and settlement that would restere the Union and prevent the effusion of blood. The Federal Government did not insist upon our active aid in furnishing troops, seeming content if we obeyed the laws and executed them upon our own soil. engaged in rebellion, however, with hypo-critical professions of friendship and re-spect, planted camps of soldiers all along our southern border; seized, by military power, the stock on our railroad within their reach, in defiance of chartered rights; impudently enlisted soldiers upon our soil for their camps, whom they estentatiously marched through our territory. They made constant raids into this State; robbed us of our property; insulted our people; seized some of our citizens, and carried them away, as prisoners, into the Confederate States. Our military was demoralized by the treachery of its chief officer in command, and many of his subordinates, until became more an arm of the Confederate States than a Guard of the State of Ken-tucky. Thus exposed to wrongs and indignities, with no power prepared to prevent or resent them, some of the citizens of this State formed camps under the Federal Government, for the defense and protection of the State of Kentucky. Whatever might have been thought of the policy once, recent events have proved that they were formed none too soon. In this condition we found Kentucky when the Legislature met, on the first Mon-day in September. We still hoped to avoid war on our own soil. We were met by assurances from the President of the Con-federate States that our position should be respected; but the ink was scarcely dry with which the promise was written, when we were startled by the news that our soil was invaded, and towns in the southwest of our State occupied by Confederate armies. The Governor of Tennessee disavowed the act, and protested his innocence of it. His commissioners at Frankfort professed the same innocence of the admitted wrong; but our warnings to leave were only answered by another invasion in the southeast of the State, and a still more direct and deadly assau't upon the very heart of the State by way of the Nashville road. These sudden irruptions of such magnitude, skillfully directed, show that the assault on Kentucky was preconcerted, prepared and intended long before. The excuses made for any of them but add insult to injury. We shall not repeat them. They are but excuses for acts intended, without any excuse. The purpose is to remove the theater of the war from the homes of those who wickedly originated it to those of Kentucky, and to involve this State in the rebellion. This to involve this State in the rebellion. arnose appeared to be well understood in he seceded States. They need the territory of Kentucky, and are determined to have it, if it must be by blood and conquest.

Thus forced into war, we had no choice but to call on the strong arms and brave hearts of Kentucky to expel the invader from our seil, and to call for the aid of the Federal Government, as we had a right to do under the Federal Constitution.

Our fees would distate terms to a brave people, upon which we can have peace. We are required to join them in their unwar-ranted rebellion, become accessory to their crimes, and consent to sacrifice the last hope of permanently upholding republican ecomes Kentuckians.

We believe we have done our duty to chivalrio people, who have forborne long, but will never fail, as a last resort, to resen an injury and punish an insult. We should hold ourselves unworthy to represent you. if we had done less. The only error, w fear is, that we have not been as prompt, you may think, as the occasion demanded. Thrice have the revolutionists appealed to the ballot-box in this State, and have the people expressed, by overwhelming majorities, their determination to stand by the Union and its Government. have not been active in this war, not from indifference, or want of loyalty, but in the hope of better promoting a restoration of the Union, and checking the rebellion by that course. Our hope of an amicabi adjustment, and a desire for peace, led us to forbear, until forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. The attempt to destroy the Union of these States we believe Western District, reported a resolution a crime, not only against Kentucky, directing the Street Inspector to place but against all mankind. But up to stepping stones across High street, at the this time we have left to others time we have left to choolhouse, at a cost of $20, which was to vindicate, by arms, the integrity of the dopted.

Mr. Tucker, from Committee on Taverus sailed now, but Kentucky is herself threatruthless destruction of property, and the lives and liberties of our people, that belongs only to savage warfare.

We have no choice but action—promp and decided. Let us show the insolen invaders that Kentucky belongs to Ken tuckians, and that Kentucky valor will vin dieste Kentucky's honor. pared because unsuspecting. An insolemand treacherous invader tells the people that their legislators have betrayed them and he come with fire and sword to correc their error, by a crusade against property liberty and life.

Young men of Kentucky, to arms! protect the home of your fathers, mother and sisters. Sound the tocsin on every hi and in every valley, until Kentucky shall drive the inscient invader from her soil.

AN ADDRESS TO THE MERCHANTS OF LOUIS VILLE.

The Committee appointed at a meeting of the merchants of this city, held at the Cus-tom House on the 2d inst., to take into conideration the subject of regulating and conducting the trade of the city in strict conformity to the laws of the land, and to suggest some plan by which the legitimate trade may be carried on, under the embarassing circumstances which surround us. arising from the circumscribed limits of our present business, so that there may be no interference with the regular trade of the State, within the boundaries herein defined on the one hand and no conflict between the military and civil authorities on the other. have had the same under consideration and

Your Committee have had an interview with the Commanding General and the Surveyor of Customs, and find that while they are determined (it being their duty) to cut off all trade with those who are in rebellion against the Government, they desire feels almost ashamed of the nothingness it to impose no unnecessary restrictions on the falls to his lot to report-not because there legitimate trade of those sections of our State which are within the military lines of the Commanding General. Several plans have suggested themselves to your Commitmen, to gather a true report of the daily tee, none of which are entirely free from objections. With a view to carry out the house. Our reporter spends an hour and a objects desired, in their true intent and meaning, the following plan is respectfully recommended to your favorable considera-

Louisville, Oct. 4, 1861.

Gentlemen: I observe an editorial in your issue of to day stating that the new Postoffice regulations work badly. Why do they work so?-do they not work exactly as the beforehand?

What are the facts of the case? The Postoffice has heretofore been open for busdrawers in the office, and who can get their letters and newspapers at any time after the office is closed, addresses a memorial to the day's labor to get to the office within the in New Orleans on the 20th of September. he will at once restore the former hours of business, and see to it that the mails for short a time after their arrival, as was done during the administration of his predecesthe public desire their rights and privileges in the Postoffice curtailed, he will hear it from those who receive their letters and newspapers at the GENERAL DELIVERY.

New Orieans.

Rumors were current all over the city yesterday morning that New Orleans had previous meeting, and that report is as fol- been taken by the Federal forces, or would soon be in their hands; and an item appeared in our evening edition giving publicity to a statement that such an event had possibly taken place, or would soon occur. The grounds upon which the possibility are based, are, in our opinion, strong enough to justify the belief of that possibility.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, writing from the U. S. frigate Niagara, off the mouth of south-west pass of the Mississippi, dated Sept. 14th, in which cccurs the following statement: "There is a rumor prevalent among us that we are to join with the flag ship in an attack on Ship Island." The New Orleans Bulletin of the 16th, gives an account of the evacuation of Ship Island at 8 o'clock, on the night of the 14th, and states that the evacuation was "a military necessity "-no doubt brought about by fears of an attack.

A correspondent of the New York Tribnne, writing from Fortress Monroe on the 18th September, stated that a powerful fleet was ready to sail, and would leave that evening or the next day for some unknown point on the Southern coast. At the same time the Atlantic, Baltic, and another steamer were loading with provisions, ammunition, and equipments, and putting up sleeping accom modations for large numbers, and were expected to leave New York on or about the

An officer of the steamer Massachusetts, blockading the mouth of the Mississippi, gives the following predictions in a ·letter written in the early part of September, before the evacuation of Ship Island:

There is no doubt that an attack will soon be made on some of the principal ports on the Gulf. The day fixed is about the 20th inst. We expect more vessels here every day, and this place is to be used as a ren dezvous for vessels in this part of the Gulf. Probably Chandeleur Island will be fortified and held until we can recapture Ship

The St. Louis Republican of the 3d contains the following:

We hear that a letter was received in this city from New Orleans, in which it is stated that a fleet of seventy vessels, large and small, was then coming up the Balize to attack New Orleans. We did not see the letter, but this is said to be the substance of it. Nor is it improbable. A telegraphic dispatch from New Orleans, dated the 20th, was published some days since, in which it was said:

"The Federals have nine batteries on Chaudierre Island, and are expecting lumber to build houses and hospitals. Twelve thousand men are to be placed on that island and in the neighborhood. They also intend to fortify Ship Island, and prevent all communication between Mobile and New

Chaudierre Island and Ship Island lie on the coast of Mississippi, the first about twenty miles from Mississippi City, and the latter about ten miles from the same point. Information was also published from another quarter, that the blockading squadron had taken Mississippi City, cutting off communication by land and water between Mobile and New Orleans. Mississippi City s seventy miles distant from New Orleans It is well known now, that an immense fleet sailed from New York in so mysterious a manner that nobody knew its object or its coast, which has, doubtless, been the case, and no surprise need be expressed if New Orleans has already been captured by the United States fleet. The Bulletin of last evening learns from the 24 h of Sept, that great efforts are [Among these bills is the general appropribeing made to place the city in a state of defense, as great fears were entertained; that there were only about 6,000 troops in had informed the Senate, that he had apand around the city.

A second expedition left Fortress Monroe, or was expected to leave, about Sept. 27, men half the income of their husband's with a heavy armament. The question property, &c. Referred to the committee arises, where have these two expeditions gone? That which left Fortress Monroe has had abundant time to reach any point on ernor informed the committee that he had the Atlantic coast and ferward news back no further communication to make to the again of its action; but it would not be able to reach New Orleans before about the 1st not affected by the change, kindly consents to or 2d of October. The date of leaving, close the office at 51 o'clock, P M, and not and supposed chief of the first expedition and supposed object of the first expedition being well known to the rebels in the neighricusly incommode nineteen-twentieths of borhood of Fortress Monroe, would, of the community, in curtailing their hours for course, be instantly telegraphed all through ME. WEIPPLE'S SINGING CLASS .- Parents call at the Postoffice, and compelling many the South, causing the intense excitement

From all these evidences and indications, we do not hesitate to state that we not only believe the capture of New Orleans and its present possession by United States forces this city, both letter and newspaper, are to be a possibility, but that it is even a probsent round the coast, we may not have any sor in the office. And further, that when positive information on the subject, and

CONFEDERATE TROOPS UNDER THE plea of military necessity have taken possession of your soil, torn up your railroads, blown up locks, burned bridges, insulted your cilizens, and sudertake to give a protectorate, by making a false assumption that your Legislature is minerpresenting your will. Are you willing to submit to these outraged if so, the sphilt that burned in the bosoms of your fathers has birned ont; you are slaves and worthy to be slaves. But I know that the same spirit that wou the dark and bondy land and made our fathers victorious on many a hard-fought battle-field still animates the bosoms of their sons, and that splift will not rest un it the last armed foe is driven ignominiously from our soil. Let us then, as one man, rise up and repel the linted States, I propose to organize in Kentucky a retiment of infentive to serve three years, or during the war, to consist of ten companies, each comouny to contain not less than eighty-fit ur, nor more than one hundred and four, rank and the. The Cantains and henchants are to be elected by the companies respectively. Cartains of companies will report to me, as soon as rossible, during the eastion of the Legislature, at the Capital Hote! Frankfort. After the adjournment, at Westport, Udham county, Ky. Transp ration to the point of rendezvons will be 'umisbed. No company must be removed from its point of organization until ordered into camp. None but active, Vigorous men, and men of stea by habits will be received. I know my consurymen will gaily only to the defense of the State, and for the roblest cause in the flue of time that man was ever called mon to defend.

CHEAT MOUNTAIN SUMMIT, Oct 3 - Special to the Cincinnati Commercial -This morning at 1 o'clock a portion of Brigadier General Reynolds' brigade, consisting of the 3d Ohio, the 24th, 25th, and 32d, and a portion of the 6th, Indiana regiments, the 7th, 9th, 13th, 14 h, 15th, and 17th, together with detachments of Bracken's Indiana, Robinson's Ohio and Greenfield's Pennsylvania cavalry. and detachments of Howe's U. S., Loomis' Michigan, and Downs' Virginia, artillery, numbering in all 5,000 men, left Cheat Mountain Semmit to make a reconnoisance, in force, in front of the enemy's position on Green Brier river, 12 miles distant Ford's 32d Ohio was sent forward to hold an important road, the possession of which prevented the enemy from flanking our main column. The expedition arrived in front of the enemy's fortifications at 8 o'clock, their pickets retreating after firing an ineffectual volley. Kimball's 14th Indiana was immediately sent forward to secure a posi-tion for Loomis' battery. Ammen's 24th deployed as skirmishers on the south slope of the mountain. Loomis' battery, supported by the 17th Indiana, Lieut. Colonel Weldon commanding, opened the battle. The shot was immediately responded to by a voltey from the enemy concealed in the bushes, who were soon routed by the 14th Indiana, with a loss of seven killed and a large number wounded and taken prisoners. Harris' battery, supported by the Thirwhat a large quantity of that article is teenth Indiana, then moved forward, taking consumed. It shows conclusively that it is a position 300 yards nearer the enemy's fortifications, and epening a brisk fire. Davin bringing forward two pieces, one was stationed near Howe, and likewise opened a brisk fire. The fiving on both sides was almost incessant for one hour; our artillery doing execution, judging from the lamentable shricks of their wounded. The enemies battery did comparatively little, the guns being two much clevated. Our guns effec-tually silenced three of theirs. While observations were being made of the enemy's fortifications, occupying three hours, an irregular artillery fire was kept up, occupyng the enemy's attention. During this interval the Twenty-fifth Ohio and Fifteenth interval the Twenty-fifth Ohio and Fifteenth Indiana rendered effectual service scouring McClain Miss and B McClain Miss the mountains. Before the close of the reconnoisance, which was now satisfactory, the enemy received heavy reinforcements from their camp near Monteray, making their strength about 15,000. Although this reconnoisance partakes more of the oharacter of a regular engagement than any previous battle in Western Virginia, our loss is but ten killed and eleven wounded. It is impossible to ascertain the enemy's loss. It will not, however, fail short of 500 killed and wounded, as our artillery did terrible execution.

Their camp was situated on the slope of the mountain, supported by a number of guns. We captured thirteen prisoners from Virginia and Arkansas regiments; also a lot of cattle and horses. Our troops, one and all, did nobly. The reconnoisance proved entirely successful, affording information relative to the enemy's strength which could not be obtained from scouts -General Anderson and Colonels Johnson, enemy.

Sr. Louis, October 4 .- The Democrat this morning, in an article showing why General Lyon was not reinforced, states that the entire force under General Fremont, on the 2d of August, including Lyon's command of 4,000, was 19,815, of which 12,556 were three months' men, whose term of enlistment was just expiring, leaving an actual force of 6,759 in the department. Of these, Lyon had 2,320 men, the balance, 4,439, being the strength of Fremont's available force. At this time, Cairo, Bird's Point and Paducah were menaced by accumulating rebel forces, and the President ordered Fremont to take all his available troops and reinforce those points; for which service only 4,126 men, including upwards moneys received for subscriptions will be of 900 St. Louis Home Guards, could be Caswell Samuel Copper Henry Miller taken only at its current rates by the raised. It also shows a distribution throughout the State Giller Wil of the constantly disbanding three months men, and says that after the battle, Fremont was thoroughly exhonorated from blame by very many men now the loudest in condemning him.

I can recommend Mrs. Limebaugh's Compound Symp of Spikenard and Tar I have been sick for a long time, have had several doctors, and they failed in my case. I was very much swollen, and had a severe couga. After using your medicine a white, I was curst of my comen and relieved of my swelling. My complexion is good, and now I am doing my own work.

My youngest child had a bai cough for a long time, so severe that her breast-bone was sprung, from severe cougains, in the shape of a chicken bene but she so now well and leoks well. She had been treated by the doctors for a long time, but they all failed to cure her cough. Now the is well.

I willever remain your irlend.

Louisville, Angust 6, 1981. Mrs. L. LIMEBAUGH: Madame—I have used your Compound Syrup in may own case of deep-sated bronchial near-oness, with which I have be enaulited for upwards of twenty years, and am satisfied, after having taken three boitles, that it is an admirable compount for the relief of in-vageal and bronchial inflictiles: for the three boitles I nave used have relieved in succeeding the many thing I have taken, and I think it will core me effectually it I continue to use it. If my opinion as to its superior character can be of any service, you are at liberty to use it as you think proper.

Here, ELIJAH GUTTON.

Mrs. L. Lineabauge: I have used your Com Syrup in my own case of deel seated cough, and it relieved me very much, and can recommend any one that is troubled with a cough. Yours, Louisville, Sugust 4, 1881.
